GUIDE FOR COMMUNITY PARTNERS

BIG CITY MOUNTAINEERS

The outdoors is more than a place to go. It's a place to GROW

Our Mission

Big City Mountaineers provides transformative experiences through connections to nature that strengthen life skills and build community for youth from disinvested communities.

Connection-Based Curriculum

Key connections we embed in each of our programs

- SELF
- COMMUNITY
- NATURE
- JOY

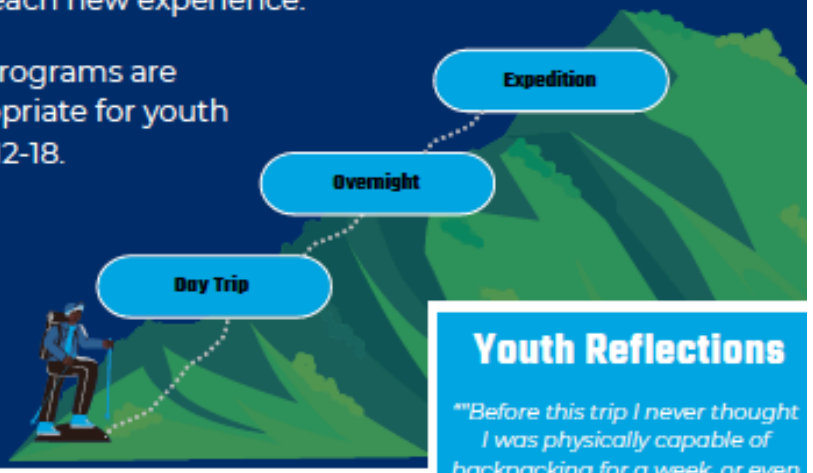

Where We Work

What We Offer

We offer a scaffolded approach to outdoor exploration that develops social-emotional skills and confidence with each new experience.

Our programs are appropriate for youth ages 12-18.

Youth Reflections

""Before this trip I never thought I was physically capable of backpacking for a week, or even summit a mountain. Today, I'm feeling powerful and strong. I feel like I can do anything and I greatly appreciate it."

"Another way the trip impacted me was learning that I shouldn't limit myself and I can succeed if I try. It made me feel physically and emotionally more capable to complete challenges."

Participation Benefits

There are so many! Here are a few:

TEAMBUILDING	BUILD COMMUNITY	FEEL AT PEACE	SPACE FROM TECHNOLOGY
TIME FOR REFLECTION	DEVELOP NEW SKILLS	PHYSICAL EXERCISE	DISCOVER PERSONAL STRENGTHS
EXPLORE OUTDOOR SPACES	RELATE TO PEERS AND CARING ADULTS

Common Questions

WHAT ARE PARTNERS EXPECTED TO PROVIDE?

The main contribution we ask for is dedicated staff time and a commitment to make trips happen.

We need at least one of your staff members to participate in training and each of the BCM trips.

We do ask that partners provide transportation for youth participants, or reimburse BCM for a rental.

HOW MANY YOUTH CAN PARTICIPATE?

We require a minimum of 5 youth participants on each trip in the series. Our maximum number depends on permitting and volunteer support.

DO STAFF OR YOUTH NEED ANY PRIOR EXPERIENCE?

Nope! We specialize in working with participants who have very limited outdoor experience.

Youth Reflections

What does having a connection with nature mean to you?

"It means peace, it means reconnecting with myself and all the things that get trapped in my heart or mind as the days pass in my daily life."

"Having a connection with nature to me means to be fully immersed in the peacefulness and calmness of nature without the overwhelming stress of the technological world."
